

To Whom It May Concern,

I've known Peter for many years. He is honest, reliable and ambitious. As a former Banker, Peter thoroughly understands the vast details about business banking. Many financial related costs go undetected to business owners and managers from numerous forms of bank fees and charges, many of which can be negotiated. With these and other cost saving areas Peter is a master who can help.

Many financial, tax and legal advisors do not fully understand the depth and creativity of bank charges when it comes to cash management, trade finance, foreign exchange, standby fees and structured loans. Peter conducts a thorough analysis which often results in significant permanent savings or reduction in owner risk.

As a former bank manager myself; I recommend every business owner or manager fully analyze their existing banking package. If you think you need some help, do yourself a favor, call Peter!
